

On BITSian Day ...

Dear BITSians,

Across the globe, you all would be celebrating BITSian Day on 3rd August – a day to recapitulate golden memories and move forward for personal and professional growth and continued growth and success of the alma mater. BITSians once again during the year have excelled and have left their footprints in the global economy across various domains – be it in boardrooms of the corporate world, entrepreneurship, research, academia or community service. We adore our well-knit family in which members nurture, support and love each other.

This year our innovative contributions in the field of higher education have been acknowledged by MHRD, Government of India who has conferred the status of Institute of Eminence on BITS Pilani being one in a select group of six institutions. We are thrilled to be recognised for our excellence in education, and inspired by the responsibility that this imparts on us. The success of our students is at the forefront of everything that we do, and this national recognition is a reaffirmation of the trust that our nation has in our ability to create and mentor some of the best industry professionals, entrepreneurs, and researchers.

Let us take a solemn pledge on this very day as proud alumni of this temple of learning that we shall extend determined support proactively and promptly in propelling our alma mater to reach greater heights.

Wishing all BITSians the very best in their pursuits for excellence.

To greater things to come.
