

Basic life support course held at BITS Goa

Dr Jorson Fernandes (sitting) conducts the BLS training at the BITS Pilani, K K Birla Goa Campus.

VASCO: Twenty-four persons from various departments and divisions of BITS Pilani, K K Birla Goa Campus, participated in the Basic Life Support (BLS) training session conducted by Dr Jorson Fernandes, Chairman of St John's Ambulance Association and certified BLS trainer.

According to a press note, the session was organized under the leadership of Campus Director, Prof. Raghurama G and campus Chief Medical Officer Dr Raghavendra K M. BITS Pilani, Goa Campus, now has 50 certified BLS trained staff.

Ernest Samuel Ratnakumar J, Registrar of BITS

Pilani University, who was on his maiden visit to Goa Campus, interacted with the training team and appreciated the efforts.

Areas covered in the BLS training included Course Introduction (Purpose & Objectives of the Course and Ground Rules), Emergency Medical Services & First Aider, General Principles in First Aid, Anatomy and Physiology of Human Body System, Initial Assessment and Emergency Action Principles, Basic Life Supports (air way emergencies, Non Breathing casualty, Choking Casualty & CPR), Ethane Message, Examinations and Course Review and Practical sessions with mannequins.