

Dance, music, comedy at day 2 of Waves2016

A scene from the Day 2 of Waves-2016, organised by BITS-Pilani Goa.

BY A STAFF REPORTER

reporters@gomantaktimes.com

Panaji: The Day 2 of Waves-2016, organised by BITS-Pilani Goa, was full of thrills and excitement.

There was a stand-up comedy competition which was judged by well known stand-up comedian Keny Sebastian. The finals of 'Natyanajali' witnessed some really high octane dance steps performed by the participating colleges.

The finals of the Nukkad Natak, which was witnessed by an enthusiastic audience, was a three-way battle between the teams of Ashoka University, Gogte Institute of Technology (GIT) Belgaum and Birla Institute of Technology and Science (BITS-Pilani), Goa.

The finals featured performances from the teams on various themes like LGBT, moral ethics and individuality.

The highlight of the day were the bike stunts performed by students. The event was sponsored by Hyundai. After a tough fight, GIT, Belgaum claimed the first place and Ashoka University took the second place.

The Dance Club conducted Just Duet, a dance event wherein a duet pairs up and dances to victory. As many as 15 couples displayed passion and creativity as they performed various dance forms such as hip-hop and contemporary amongst others. Later, six top teams qualified for the finals.

The Day 2 Comedy night featured top stand-up comedians Zakir Khan and Keny Sebastian.