Elocution contest held at BITS Pilani

VASCO: With an objective to create awareness amongst common men, especially the youth towards corruption-free governance, Vigilance Department of M/s Goa Shipyard Limited in collaboration with BITS Pilani, KK Birla Goa Campus organised an inter-college elocution contest at BITS Pilani, Goa Campus, recently. Students of MES College, Zuarinagar; Padre Conceição College of Engineering, Verna; Government College of Arts, Commerce and Science, Khandola; NIT-Goa; Goa Engineering College, Farmagudi and BITS Pilani, Goa Campus participated in the contest. Results will be declared at the end of the awareness week. Chief guest Director of BITS Pilani, Goa campus, Prof Raghurama G addressed the students and shared his knowledge and experience towards creating a corruption-free environment in academic and work places. Guest speaker, General Manager (HR&A) of Goa Shipyard Limited, Manoranjan Kunthia spoke on integrity at workplace. Other dignitaries present on the occasion were Prof Angshuman Sarkar, chief warden and faculty in the Department of Biological Science and Prof Ramesha C K, associate dean, Student Welfare Division and faculty in the Department of EEE. The programme was compered by Lochan Karekar, senior manager (Vigilance).